The retirement on January, 5th of Esq. Jno. C. Trimble, as Magistrate in the Hart-Smithville precincts, removed from the Montgomery Fiscal Court one of its oldest members in point of & service, he having been a member for sixteen consecutive years and during his long tenure in office we are informed he never missed a single meeting of the court. AS TO DEBTORS

Homer Hoch prints this "box" an the Marion (Kas) Record's front page: "Some folks can't pay their debts when due, but regret it, and pay as soon as they can. Heaven prosper 'em. Some folks can pay their debts, but never do. Heaven be merciful to 'em. Some folks pay their debts cheerfully. Heaven bless 'em. Some folks pay their pity 'em. And nothing shows folks up more than the attitude they take toward paying or trying to pay, their debts."

THE BUSINESS OUT-

What is the business outlook for the year on which we are just entering? Former Republican office-holders tell us that things are gloomy, for the simple reason that prosperity and a Democratic Administration cannot go together. Of course, the sooner the people learn that neither party can feed the people, the better off they will be, and the nearer they will be to the economistic facts.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS.

The New York Sun, the greatest editorial journal of the nation, has the following optimistic view of the future of this country, which has begun under a Democratic administration. It says:

"No nation ever began a year under such favorable conditions and feelings of prosperity as the United States begins the new year of 1914. No party ever made so good in so short a time as the democrats led by their sage president Woodrow Wilson. With factories resuming work taking on thousands of the unemployed and such splendid crops as are to be found in the South and West the most chronic kicker must admit that prosperity seems to be with us.

We have the tariff question set tled and are beginning to reap Catarrh That Contain Mercury the benefits of cheaper clothing. We have the income tax to take from the rich revenue to help run the government. We have the new Currency Law which provides for a better banking system with a more elastic currency will do be the system. Catarrh That Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do be ten fold to the good win can possibly derive from them. Half's Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buring Half's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuland compliment by foreign nations.

The people of the entire nation rests in the attitude of confidence restored. Their exists with all a spirit of hustle and conserset by the President and Cabinet whom are living at less extrava- tion. gant than did their predecessors. We hear of no long trips made by the President or any of the members of the Cabinet, they are all sticking to their jobs.

With the wonderful net work of railroads the neighborhoods of plenty and those where food stuff is scarce, are directly connected and like the new banking laws relief is provided for immediately The whole country is permeated by an era of good feeling and a prosperous year is predicted.

There is no rose without a thorn, and every peach has a hatpin or a belt pin.

In spite of the liberal provisions of the new currency law, those grasping and soulless leeches, the bankers, continue to ask to see a man's collateral before lending him any money.

A writer on the staff of Collier's Weekly says the strongest figures in history, the men who have led great political reforms, knew neither kin nor friends in the carrying out of the state programmes. James Stephen Hogg was one of the strongest figures in Texas history. He did not even break with kin nor friends. Woodrow Wilson will live in history as one of its strongest figures. Has he ever broken with either kin or friends? Tis true that he has escaped the abuse heaped on Lincoln, Jefferson Davis, Grover Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt. It is also true that the time may come when Woodrow Wilson will not be a popular idol and will be subjected to the same indignities that were heaped upon the great reformers in American history. William Jennings Bryan is one of the strongest figures in history. He was a target for abuse for sixteen long years. But he won in the end and today his fame is international.

Mrs. Jay McGee, of Stephenville, Texas, writes: "For nine (9) years, I suffered with womanly trouble. I had terrible headaches, and pains in my back, etc. It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so. At last, I decided to try Cardul, the woman's tonic, and it helped me right away. The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me."

Cardul helps women in time of greatest need, because it contains ingredients which act specifically, yet gently, on the weakened womanly organs. During the next four years the counties that have voted to change their form of government will spend, in the aggregate, several millions upon roads and other improvements. The General Assembly should and doubtless will recognize the importance of protecting them from the catastrophe of having to sit with folded hands and see their already discountenanced Fiscal Courts squander the county funds as they wish .-Courier-Journal.

To our way of thinking, the present school law is the worst we have ever had, being patterned after the law of some state where mixed schools are tolerated. Under it a colored voter may vote for a colored visitor and for a trustee for the white schools, while a white voter can vote for a trustee of the white schools only. Such a law ought to be stricken from our statute booke altogether, but if this cannot be done, it should certainly be amended so as not to permit colored voters to select a trustee for the white schools.

Although it was adopted, we CHILES WINS WITH are glad to see our Representative, the Hon. One of my show birds had the worst case of roup I ever saw. She was almost dead before I noticed it. I purchased a bottle of Bourbon Poultry Cure and I took a feather and dipped it into the medicine and swabbed out her throat as far down as I could reach. I also put a liberal quantity in her soft feed and drinking water, and today she is well and sound and is laying nearly every day. It is certainly the most remarkable medicine I ever saw. "Worth More Than it Costs"

Lots of farmers declare their telephone service is worth more than it costs. J. W. Harris, a wellknown farmer living near Choccolocco, Ala., writes:

"I had occasion to call our doctor not two hours after my telephone was connected with your exchange. My mother, who is very old, fell down the door steps and broke her arm, and I called the doctor. He was at my house before I could have gone to his residence, as he has an

the "extra help" about which it has been wrangling, there will be no serious objection from the taxpavers to its making provision therefor. If the chief object of the "extra help" is to pay political debts, and the Capitol is to be overrun with supernumerary employes, it will be well to cut out some of the extras.

The people of the State would like to see economy practiced at Frankfort, and that, too, in little things as well as in those of larger importance. "He that is faithful in little will be faithful in much." The present legislative session will be much more costly than the sessions which have preceded it. The members, for instance, will draw twice as much pay as formerly has been drawn. If there is no retrenchment of expenses, it should be applied all along the line, and there should be no padding of the payrolls with employes who are not required.

The Legislature should have all the "help" that is needed for the prompt and orderly transaction of business. Beyond that it should draw the line. It should go very slowly in the matter of creating new positions and new offices. We already have too many officeholders in Kentucky, and it would be a sensible proceeding to lop off some of them. There are too many counties and there are more judicial districts than are necessary, and it is to be hoped there will be no effort in New York and millions more from South America republics are under contract.

CORN SENT FROM THE ARGENTINE

Nearly 200,000 bushels of Argentine corn is being unloaded

The importations are the diect result of the removal of the luty on the staple under the reent tariff act.

More than 1,000,000 bushels have been received in the United States since the tariff went into effect, the first from the Argentine ever brought here, and already the competition with American corn has forced a decline n cash values.

Thirteen ships are either en route here or loading with corn from the Argentine, and one American manufacturing concern, which uses corn in the manufacture of syrups and kindred products, have 5,000,000 bushels from that country under contract for delivery.

The corn already here found railroads unprepared to handle it, and the port without adequate docking facilities. Arrangements to remedy the deficiencies are being made by the transportation bureau of the product exchange.

The fact that hereto practically no corn has ever moved west has also confronted the railroads with a new rate problem, and there is a movement on foot among the importers to have the present nominal rate for western shipment reduced.

THE SHORT DAYS

The short days of December and January are unwelcome. They involve extra work, and roll up some burdensome lighting bills. No form of illumination can take the place of sunlight. In factories very thorough lighting systems may seem about like daylight. Yet there is a tonic inspiration in the sun's cheerful rays that no artificial light can supply.

In the dimly lighted rural home, the housewife blunders about, hampered by the lamp she must carry in her hand. She strains her eyes trying to finish the day's task of needlework by fading twilight. 'In many country workshops oil lamps are still used. Time spent cleaning and trimming them and in dodging shadows is dead factory loss.

In the northern parts of Europe, where there are not more than five or six hours of daylight at this time, the latitude must be a distinct business handicap. Fortunately the United States lies nearer the sun.

To some people the early dark has suggestions of quiet repose. But to the majority, longer days will bring a message of springtime and drawing hope.

THE APPEARANCE OF PROSPERITY

One of the reasons why advertising has grown so enormously of recent years is that merchants realize that a business to succeed must carry an atmosphere of prosperity.

The man who enters a business office with soiled clothes, and face unshorn, and muddy boots, is not apt to get a job. This may be due to superficial judgments, but people have to make the best use they can of exterior indications.

Similarly the public judges of a merchants' success by exterior signs. A business man who does not advertise conveys an impression of passiveness and indifference, of slow-going, old fashioned methods.

The public values enterprise in retail trade higher than almost any other one quality. Liberal advertising is to a merchant what good clothes and a clean cut appearance are to salesman. It suggests that a merchant is prosperous, that he his customers. It shows that he has such confidence in his goods that he is willing to spend money to tell people about them.

Possibly some of the prisoners will not appreciate this kind of treatment, but if the majority of them do, the experiment will be justified. Criminals are not reformed by the contract labor system. Crime is not suppressed by cruelty. The prisoners cannot make men out of defectives and delinquents by applying the lash, the water cure or the stringingup process. It is perhaps a question if this can be done by going to the other extreme and endeavoring to control prisoners solely by kindness and moral suasion.
